Guidelines for the Remedial Strategy for Academically Weak Students

1. Internal Assessment scores for each course will be considered to classify the student into one of the following category:

- + 65 % - Self Study
- 56% -65% - Low risk (require monitoring)
- 45%-55% - at risk category
- 30%-44% - Medium risk (need intervention)
- Less than 30% - High risk (need intervention)

2. Following intervention strategies to enhance performance of the weak students: 1. Group learning

2. tests
3. open book answers
4. presentation on a pre-identified topics
5. Direct mentoring
6. additional classes in some topics*
7. mock exams in one or more predetermined questions
8. and mock viva

3. Remedial strategy for the varied risk categories:

A student-centered approach:

It was agreed that strategies will be based on a student-centered approach. The student-centered approach is one in which the learning is self-directed and the goals are self-determined. Accordingly, the student or group of students belonging to the category will identify the strategy suitable for them. The assessment of performance will be by the students of the group, e.g., evaluating the answers, or providing feedback, etc. If there is a lone student in a group then, academically strong students can serve as the evaluator. The tutor will be a facilitator to achieve the students' goal. The following table shows appropriate group of strategies for each of the categories.

Guidelines for the Remedial Strategy for Academically Weak Students

Table: Risk category and their corresponding remedial strategies

 - Every Tuesday 09.00 -to 11.00 am will be allotted for the remedial classes.
2. Minimum of one hour/course will be given
3. One faculty/course will be assigned as a facilitator
4. If a student requires intervention to more than two courses than additional hours will be scheduled depending upon the availability of instructor and student.
5. To implement the plan the risk categories of the students for each course was requested based on the internal assessment results.
Mr. Vinith is assigned responsible for the task.

6. Faculties are requested to identify the course for which they will be the facilitator
7. The list will be shared to the students in a meeting.
